Areas of Greatest Need:

The housing bubble has burst in the state of Washington. The national economic slowdown and banking crisis, combined with huge job losses in local economies, have taken a heavy toll on the Washington housing market and economy. The prospects for the Washington housing market look grim and will likely continue to decline until the foreclosure crisis is abated.

Data released by HUD present an ominous outlook for the Washington housing market. The HUD NSP Foreclosure Needs Data report shows over 63,000 homeowners are either in foreclosure or seriously delinquent in their mortgage payments. The foreclosure rate in Washington increased from 1.42%, according to LISC 2008 data, to 5.5%, according to the HUD 2009 data. According to data released by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the state of Washington has over 122,000 subprime mortgages. The rise in foreclosures is expected to continue over the next few years. Some estimate Washington may have over 100,000 foreclosures by the end of 2010.

The rise in foreclosures is causing a significant drop in the value of homes and home sales. The median price of homes reached its peak in 2006. By the end of the first quarter of 2009, the statewide median home price fell nearly 20% from slightly more than $300,000 in 2006 to $253,500 in 2009. The Washington economy has lost roughly one-sixth of the value of its residential property.

Foreclosures is one of the main culprits in the decline of the Washington home values and the erosion of its property tax base. Foreclosures account for a loss of nearly $9 billion of property value. The loss of property value, tax base and equity will continue to increase unless steps are taken to stop it.

Distribution and and Uses of Funds:

The Washington housing and foreclosure crisis is taking the fuel out of local economies. Foreclosures are causing a deflation of housing prices, which causes credit markets to freeze and results in a drop in home sales, which contributes to even more foreclosures. A metaphorical chase develops where one factor contributes to the haste of the other factors. As a result, over the past year the number and rate of foreclosures in Washington has tripled. The situation is expected to get worse without intervention to stop the rise of foreclosure rates.

The State of Washington is using the funding it received from the Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008 to provide emergency financial assistance to local jurisdictions. It distributed the funds to approximately 26 jurisdictions. Together they plan to recover approximately 500 foreclosed properties. Nearly all of the jurisdictions plan to use some of the properties to house very low income households. Although they are required to use 25% of their NSP funds to house very low income households, they will exceed this target. Collectively they plan to house roughly 180 very low income households which represent 36% of the total NSP target.

A large number of the jurisdictions plan to underwrite the activities of non-profit agencies. Approximately 73 units will be used by non-profit agencies to provide supportive housing for homeless families. Four out of six counties (King, Kitsap, Snohomish, Clark and Spokane) are going to solicit contracts from non-profit agencies. The cities of Federal Way, Kent, Tacoma, and Vancouver are also going to enter into contracts with non-profits agencies.

Seven jurisdictions are working with their local housing authorities. A number of these units will be used for supportive housing. These cities include Everett, Kelso, Lacey, Walla Walla, Yakima and Yelm. Together they plan to provide 24 housing units to very low income households.

Five jurisdictions are going to provide recovered-foreclosed properties to Habitat for Humanity who, in turn, will rehabilitate and sell them to very low income households. The cities include Aberdeen, Lakewood, Spokane County and Toppenish. This partnership will recover 24 housing units.

The remaining jurisdictions plan to work with their local community action councils (Hoquiam); community development organization (Pierce County), and community land trust (Seattle). These partnerships will recover 37 housing units for very low income households.

The applications from the remaining jurisdictions (Pasco and Spokane) indicated they plan to work directly with income eligible buyers and tenants. They plan to recover and place 15 low income households in foreclosed properties that they recover.

Overall Progress Narrative:

To date, out of the federal grant of approximately $28 million to Washington State, over $23.7 million has been spent on recovering properties and stabilizing neighborhoods since 2009. This represents disbursements of over 84 percent of the initial NSP1 funds. In addition over $1.3 million in program income has been spent for a total of over $25 million disbursements. Of this $25 million, over $950,000 was disbursed this quarter.

Washington State's NSP1 program is in the phase where local governments are now fixing up the previously acquired properties and are selling or renting them to income eligible families. Because of this new phase, NSP recipients recovered only 4 foreclosed properties this quarter. As they are able, some of the NSP recipients will then use any sale proceeds (program income) to recover additional foreclosed properties. Since the beginning of Washington State's NSP1 program, 341 properties or over $32 million in appraised property values have been put back into productive use.

This quarter, Washington State became aware that quarterly expenditures under "Program Funds Expended" had not been entered each quarter into the Quarterly Performance Report. Upon consultation with HUD's DRGR Help Desk, it was recommended that the total amounts expended to date, Jul 1 thru Sep 30, 2011, be entered under each activity to correct the data and bring it up to date. Next quarter, Program Funds Expended will consist of just those funds expended for that specific quarter for each activity.

The State of Washington designated Vancouver as a jurisdiction facing a significant rise in the rate of home foreclosures. It finds Vancouver needing emergency financial assistance to help mitigate the impacts caused by foreclosure crisis.

Vancouver will enter into an agreement with Columbia Non-Profit Housing. It will use NSP funds to underwrite deferred loans that income-eligible homebuyers will use to purchase foreclosed properties. The loans may only be used to purchase property on which the loan recipient will reside. The loans will have a zero percent interest rate and a term of fifteen years. Loan payments will be deferred for as long as the homebuyer resides on the property. If the homebuyer resides on the property for at least fifteen years, then the full amount of the loan will be forgiven. If the property changes owners during the term of the loan, then the full amount becomes due and payable.

Vancouver will treat recovered loans as program income in accordance with the rules and regulations of the CDBG program. This activity is a Type A NSP Eligible Use (Establishing Financial Mechanisms). It is also an eligible CDBG activity in accordance with 24 CFR 570.201(n): Homeownership Assistance.

Kelso is slowing making progress on its NSP projects. As reported last quarter, the city's planning director resigned. HUD is provided needed technical assistance. Kelso used NSP funds to clean up blight on 2 properties. Kelso is working with the Lower Columbia Community Action Council to develop them. One, a single lot, will probably be developed with a house. The other property is an old salvage yard and may require an environmental assessment before it can be further developed.

The State of Washington designated the City of Bellingham as an area with a significantly higher than average rate of home foreclosures and, therefore, in need of this type of emergency financial assistance.

Bellingham will enter into a contract with Kulshan Community Land Trust to purchase and redevelop foreclosed homes, located in Whatcom County. Foreclosed homes will be purchased at a discount of at least one percent (1%) from the current market appraised value of the property. Upon the sale of the property, Bellingham will assure the continued affordability of the property in accordance with the requirements of 24 CFR 92.252 for rental units and 24 CFR 92.254 for owner-occupied units. Redevelopment of existing housing and/or the provision of new housing will comply with the minimum housing quality standards for Section 8 housing as defined in 24 CFR 982.401.

No change from previous QPR. Bellingham has expended all of its Type E NSP funds. Bellingham worked with the Kulshan Community Land Trust (KCLT) to purchase portions of the Harrid Pack Subdivision Plat &ndash a stalled and foreclosed subdivision. Of the 6 housing units KCLT plans to build on the property, 3 of them will be used to house people who earn less than 50 percent of the area median income. They are still in the planning phase and hope to start building homes in 2012.
